

Amy has a great attitude and always gives 100 percent. Her work ethic is as good as anyone I've had working for me. Her co-workers and the customers really like her. Amy does her job really really well!

I've also been very happy with support DSI provides us. Amy and her job coach have a good repair and I don't have to worry about quality of of her work or her not being on time.

and being one's own person is its ultimate reward"*

Staff Training: Transition staff must pass a comprehensive pre-employment test, interview and background checks.

DSI has a rigorous training program for staff which includes CPR/First Aid, Bloodborne Pathogens, Seizure First Aid, Client Rights, Client Protection, protection from Abuse/Neglect/Exploitation, Incident Reporting, Defensive Driving, Crisis Intervention, Medication Orientation, Medication Administration, and Core A and Core B Medication Training.

DSI and the Department of Labor have partnered in the Client Service Specialist Apprenticeship Program which requires 3,000 working hours and 226.5 training hours to complete.

Staff must complete a variety of training, some of which require re-certification on an annual or biannual basis and all employees must keep their training up-to-date at all times to retain their apprenticeship status.

DSI's award-winning training program is a model in the State of Indiana and is certified by the Department of Labor.

Purpose: Transition Services provide individuals with valuable resources to help them find employment, higher education, living options, medical and health benefits, and opportunities in the community. DSI understands that the transition into life after high school is challenging as the decisions youths make now could greatly shape their futures.

Experience: DSI has been a leader in providing quality services to individuals with disabilities since 1975. We are currently in 30 counties and will be expanding our services throughout the State of Indiana.

Philosophy: DSI's philosophy for Transition Services is to provide services through an individualized, person-centered approach.

Quality: Transition services follow the policies and recommended practices of the Bureau of Quality Improvement Services (BQIS), Division of Disability and Rehabilitative Services. DSI is surveyed and accredited by the Commission of Accreditation of Rehabilitation Facilities (CARF). In addition to the program review, the CARF survey process assesses the organizations' business practices to ensure sound management principles. And finally and most importantly, client, family and guardian input is used as an important part of the quality assurance process.
